Louisville, Jan. 27, 1851.

The Lightning Conductors on the plan of J. Spratt, of Clinchnati, appear to be very well devised, and in point of mechanical continution, are the lost I have ever scene.

It is to be looped that the one of these rods may become general as an important auxiliary defence against a danger which must be regarded as of no ordinary magnitude, to which all fuilblings are liable.

B. SILLIMAN, Jr.

Prof. of Chem. in the Univ. of Louisville;

This will certify that I have examined the Lightning Rods, Metallic Points, and Insulating Attachments, manufactured by Mr. Spratt, of Omeionatt, Ohio, and regnet them as constructed in conformity to the general laws of the electric fluid; and the Gibbel Copper Beneched Points, as promising, from the results of several tests to which they were submitted, to resist for years the action of those atmospheric causes most likely to correduction, and metallic fluid for the production of the AMEANS;

We understand that our friend Hall thinks that his speech was not accurately reported in yesterday's paper. We did not have the pleasure of hearing it, and consequently cannot speak positively in regard to the matter. We recieved it by the Clothes' line Telegraph, which we admit has not been brought to that state of perfection which some of the other lines have reached. If our friend will write out his speech, we will publish it with great pleasure; or, it he desires it, we will give one of our best apologies.

ETWe are requested to announce that Josiah Otis Burdick will address the citizens of Newport, at the State House, this evening, on the Nebraska question, showing its unconstitutionality and iniquity. As Milen Itali, Blue, in his encorposition 1871 Burdick accepts the challenge, and will be happy to have Mr. Hall reply to his remarks. We hope that Mr. Hall will do se. and we will insure a crowded house.

We should judge from the wording and the punctuation of the sentence, that the bag, and not the trampet, was to be presented.

TW The Cantain of Daniel will be repeared at the First Baptist Church, on the 29th. From the great satisfaction which it gave at the first presentation, and considering the large number of persons who were unable to obtain admission, we have no doubt but that there will be a large audience this time. No tickets will be wold at the door, therefore those who wish to attend must procure a copy of the Libretto at the bookstores, which will admit them to the Church.

CANTON, Jan. 12, 1855.

The enlistment of Americans in the Imperial service was put a stop to by the U. S. Commissioner, Mr. McLane, who announced his intention of inflicting a punishment of three years' imprisonment and a fine of $10,000 upon any American who should accept service under the Chinese Government. In the early part of December, the American and English Ministers came up to Canton accompanied by a powerful fleet of men-of-war. Their attempts to negotiate with the imperial authorities were unsuccessful.

On the 30th of December a desperate at tack was made on a number of trading junks lying at Whampon, by a large fleet of rebel boats and piratical vessels from outside. The junks were under convoy of a few imperialist vessels, which were by no means in sufficient force to make an effectual resistance. The fight, however, was unusually obstinate, and the junks being in the midst of the foreign shipping, where they were supposed probably to be in comparative sufety, a great number of foreign vessols, including men-of-war, were struck during the action, and several casualties occurred on board American and English ships. Not the least interference was attempted by either the American or English forces. The affair ended with the capture and plunder of the junks, and murder of all on board, except the women and children, who were carried off.

On the following day the piratical boats plundered from Longside American vessels several chop boats laden with cargoes for said vessels. They were returned next day upon a representation from Captain Abbott that they were American property. The piratical and rebel forces hold a fort in Blenheim Road, and have a large number of foreign sailors with them, who joined the rebel service, after leaving the Imperial, upon Mr. McLane's decree. These sailors head all the attacks, and give a very different tone to the fighting from that of two months since. The Chinese authorities have made strong representations to the foreign Ministers of the apparent injustice in not preventing those men from fighting against the Imperialists, after so promptly forbidding them to take service with them.

At a meeting on the 2d inst., the American residents expressed unanimously their egict that Capt. Abbot had not thought it his duty to interfere at Whampea, when American life and properly were in such jeopardy. Also, their apprehensions for the future, arising from the views expressad by Capt. Abbot.

On the 7th the rebel forces, with the aid of the pirates, approached within 5 miles of the factories, plundered and burnt thirty. five junks, and murdered their crews, They stept.

The very large number of piratical ves-Bels from outside that have joined the rebels plunder every description of boats between this and Whampon, and consequently the class beats can ne longer go up and down. Communication with the shipping is kept up by means of steamers and armed lorchers. These pirates, who, when outside the river, were sought out and dispersed by vessels of war, have found that by els they can commit the Bogue and leagueing with the rebels they can commit their depredations with impunity. The leader of the gang that holds the fort at Blanheim Beach has the nominal command, but the whole object of this banditti, ashore and affort, being plunder, they are subject to his orders only while such orders encourage or do not interfere with their maraudings. We have therefore no prospect of any amelioration of the existing state of trade. Should the rebels take Canton, we cannot see that there would be any more likelihood than at present of the province being trunquillized. It is swarming with gangs of armed robbers, under chiefs independent of each other, who will resist all attempts at

From Shanghae advices are to the 1st instant. The French commodore had declared the city to be in a state of siege, and partially bombarded it. His proceedings will probably lead to the recapture of the city by the imperialists, an event which would long since have occurred but for the constant aid afforded to the rebels by foreigners. It is well worthy the attention of those engaged in this trade, that at Shanghas where the imperialists hold the province, there is no interruption to free communication with the interior, while in this province, where the rebels have the ascendancy, none can venture to go a mile from the city without being plundered, and alcommunication is cut off .-- Com. Adv.

MAINE AND ANTI-SLAVERY .- The Senate of Maine, on the 12th inst., passed without a diesenting voice, a series of "resolves relating to slavery," by which the Senators of that State were "instructed," and its Representatives "requested" to use all practicable means to secure the enactment of laws abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia repealing the Fugitive Slave law, and prohibiting slavery lorever in the incritories of the United States .---Similar instructions were given to oppose Young, Governor and Superintendent of the admission of any new slave-holding

The New York Evening Mirror says ... "It is a well known fact that Bill Poole, the election bully of the Ninth ward sarried Raymond's election to the Assembly a few years ago. Mr. Raymond was then elected Speaker of the House; and from that position he stepped into the Chair of the Lieutenant Governor, And our readers will recollect, when the Poole and Morissey fight took place last summer, how gingerly the Times discussed the matterparticulary in relation to Mr. Poole. It is this contemptible trackling to the bruisers who heat off the better class of citizens from the polls, that elevates demagogues to office, and gives consequence and power to the bullies of the rum-holes."

ar The Buffalo Express publishes a a letter from Senator Seward, touching adopted citizens, in which he opposes the "inculcations" of the K. N's. He thinks:

"That hereafter as heretofore, openness and frankness will be preferred to secret combinations, equality of political rights and privileges to distrunchisement of temporarily obnoxious classes, and charity for religious creeds and ceremonies to persecution for conscience's sake."

A Growing City.-The St. Louis Intelligencer considers the failure of the Legislature to pass a City Extension bill as a doud loss to the city of half a million of dollars. The city proper contains only 97,000 inhabitants, whilst the real city has a population of 120,000. The present city limits in some places, run across most populous streets, leaving the largest number of houses and people outside. The growth of St. Louis has been one of the maryels of the age.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT .- A German rag-picker, 50 years of age, was killed on the Roston and Providence Railroad, Friday afternoon, at Hog Bridge, Roxbury. He had been warned not to walk on the truck, but persisted in doing so. In a few moments he stepped off one track to avoid a train coming towards him, and was struck by a train going in the opposite direction on the other track. His body was crushed in a most frightful manner, causing instant

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.—The U.S. ship Vandalia, John Pope, Commander, was in Shanghae Dec. 11th, and had a guard of her men on shore for the protection of the Settlement. A guard from the French and English squadron was also on shore for the same purpose. The surveying vessels, stenmer John Hancock, and schooner J. Fenimore Cooper, were also at Shanghae at the above date, relitting for a cruise to the northward.

CAPTAIN INGRAHAM,-The Charleston Standard states that while this distinguished officer is receiving from the people of foreign countries fluttering testimonials of admiration for his heroic conduct in the Kozta business, his entire property at home is passing under the auctioneer's hammer to satisfy an execution for a security debt. Twenty thousand dollars would preserve the gallant officer's homestead. The debt is no private obligation. but is a liability incurred for the defalcation restraint by their fellow thieves as quickly of an official of the State. The honorable as they would those of the Imperial author- and courageous discharge of public duty might furnish some ground for relief, es. pecially where, by the default of another officer of State, an innocent person was made to suffer, while absent in the public service. Mr. lograham's father, an officer under Paul Jones in the Revolutionary Navy, last his entire fortune by French Spoliation. The recent veto of the President will cut Capt. 1. off from the last channel by which his fortune might have been repaired. Mr. Ingraham has served his country nobly, he has lost his hereditary rights by the action of the Federal Executive; his debt is one literally to the State, as surery for an officers of hers.

> BF Ex-Governor Washburn has been appointed Lecturer in the Law School at Harvard, to supply the vacancy occasioned ! by the rejection of Judge Loring. The Boston Daily Advertiser says that Gov-Washburn graduated at Williams College in 1817, and that he belongs to the orthodox Congregational Church.

THE SPOLIATION SUFFERENS.-A letter from Washington states that the disappoint, ed and twice vetoed French Spoliation claimants do not intend to cease their endeavors. They will come with increased force upon the next Congress, and in that they expect confidently to carry the last vetoed bill by a constitutional majority of two thirds, at the next session. They do not propose to go before the Court of Claims, as has been suggested, and the court would probably decide that the recent act establishing the court does not embrace those claims. It will be observed, however, that the court is to consider all such cases as Congress may refer to it, and they may refer these claims for examinination and adjudication. It has often been proposed by the parties that they should be referred to some legal tribunal.—Boston Courier.

THE DISCONTENTED DEMOCRACY.-The Richmond Enquirer complains that Mr. Soule is leading bimself "to the discontented democracy." This shows that the exminister has a grain of prudence after allfor if he should lend himself to the contented democracy he might find himself at the end of the week without a single backer.

An Allegony .-- A humming bird met a butterfly, and being pleased with the beauty of its wings made an offer of perpetual triendship. "I cannot think of it," was the reply, " as you spurned me and called me a crawling dolt," " Impossible!" exclaimed the humming bird, "I always entermined the highest respect for such beautiful creatures as you." "Perhaps you do now said the other, "but you insulted me when a catterpillar. So let me give you a bit of advice. Never insult the humble as they may some day become your superiors."

HEAD-CUSHION .-- Mr. J. N. Williams, of Dubuque, Iowa, has invented an arrangement of cushions for the support of the heads of passengers travelling in milroad cars. The enshions are to be attached to the side walls of the cars, and are to be wholly independent of the backs of the seats. They can be turned by hinges out of the way, against the wall of the car when not used. Some such arrangement is comfortable and convenient, almost necessary for night travelling.
